Contest Report on the Meeting of [redacted]
with CAMBISTA 4 in New York on 20 November 1951

1. On 20 November 1951 the undersigned spoke with CAMBISTA 4 at the latter's request in a conference room in New York City, N. Y. The case officer got down to business by simply asking CAMBISTA 4 what he had been doing since the previous conference in Washington last October. He replied that he had been trying to persuade members of CAMBISTA 1 residing in North America to emigrate and support the participation of the organization in SCMR. CAMBISTA 4 said that he is still not confident of success in this undertaking, since opposition from his co-nationals here has proved greater than he originally expected. (Case Officer Comment): CAMBISTA 4's comment that he is having difficulties within CAMBISTA 1 because of SCMR was perhaps an understatement. According to [redacted] CAMBISTA 1 is just about to split into two rival factions over the CHACTIVE issue. Many CAMBISTA 1 members allegedly feel that CAMBISTA 2 had no mandate to represent CAMBISTA 1 and they are promoting unfavorable criticism of both CAMBISTA 1 and 2.

2. Without any obvious transition to any new topic of discussion, he went on to say that CAMBISTA 2 is scheduled to arrive in the United States prior to 26 November and would accompany him on his missionary work. CAMBISTA 4 then reiterated his few point critique of SCMR:

- (a) threats and coercion should not be used to recruit members, for unless SCMR practices the democratic principles it preaches, its present power tactics will boomerang later and result in rather noisy defections;
- (b) the scope of what SCMR represents is too limited. It should include representations of all the subjugated Iron Curtain countries and not just the nationalities of the Soviet Union;
- (c) the present voting mechanism is undemocratic and will remain so until there is a SCMR chamber similar to the United National General Assembly where each nation, regardless of size, has an equal vote;
- (d) as far as the issue of postwar sovereignty of any non-Russian race of the Soviet Union is concerned, a gentleman's agreement must be reached and the issue shelved until after the war, otherwise SCMR will not be able to concentrate on overthrowing the present regime.

(Case Officer Comment): CAMBISTA 4 did not specify how this agreement could be reached or how the issue of national independence could stay shelved once SCMR sits down in plenum to decide what, for example, should be broadcast to the non-Russian nationalities of the Soviet Union.

3. The next action that must occur is to tell the Cuban proposals contained in Page 12 of the report on the Cuban communication. CUBISTA 4 agreed that all the proposals contained with the mutual interests of CUBISTA 1 and the United States government. He was told by the man referred to concerning all his actions regarding these various proposals that CUBISTA 2 and CUBA, in fact, CUBISTA 2 should be in charge of fulfilling the requests for diplomatic publications, etc., etc., etc.

4. CUBISTA 4 made that CUBISTA 2 works very hard to assist in negotiations as soon as possible after his arrival. It can then be done before the trip. It is anticipated that CUBISTA 2 will proceed to negotiate with CUBISTA 2, primarily and almost exclusively to have CUBIST 2 to say and to give him a LIAISON VP arrangement. It will be necessary to supplement our incoming members of new, less experienced people in PRO-JET ABDO. It will be anticipated to continue this function in the proper and only channel through which he can make official proposals. However CUBISTA 2 must be very well to update up and plan to do.

5. At the end of the communication with CUBISTA 4 the latter mentioned that in order to collect information, to write many reports and to recall the other requests made by the next action, CUBISTA 1 will require some money. CUBISTA 4 suggested a direct subsidy of $1000.00 monthly, adding that CUBISTA 1 is financially strapped. The subsidy proposal is being given serious consideration at the present time, although no decision has been made to date. He will keep you informed on this matter.
